we certain Advice here, that Marthal Bellifle ut of Prague with the greatest Part of the viz 5000 Foot and 2500 Horfe on the 18th, forced the Austrians in their Post at Hortiadvanced on the 20th to Pirglitz, which is half Way to Pilsen, where he hoped to ar-he 22d. This Scheme of a Retreat has been Aguation, and in truth was all the French had half Way to Pilfen, where he hoped to arstation, and in truth was all the French had to the Croats and Pandours had made the round Prague a Defart, and the Provisions in were not sufficient for 6000 Men for fix five Weeks ago. Guards, who had Orders on the smallest Motion of the Inhabitants, to fet fire to the Place, and burn the whole Riches of the City. On the 18th, about four in the Morning, they began their March. There may about 6000 Men left behind, but it is generally though they will make a Push too, fince they are scarce strong enough to awe the Townsmen.

P. S. We have just now a Courser from Leurina-ritz, with Advice, that General Nadasti with 5000 Huffars had overtaken the French on the 19th near Lochowitz, and after a very tharp Engagement had en-tirely ruined their Horie, and forced the whole Army to encamp, fo that it was conceived Prince Lobkowitz must also come up with them with his Intantry and Artillery. It was supposed Marshal Belleisle halted, in Order to give M. de Sochelles, and the rest of the Garison of Prague, time to join him; if so, a general Engagement must ensue, before the French can continue their Marsh for Baratin.

tinue their March for Bavaria."

Vienna, Dec. 15. There feems to be a ftricter Union than ever between our Court and that of Great Britain, the Grand Duke shewing unusual Respect to the British, the Grand Duke shewing unusual Respect to the British Minister here. Hustars and Croats pass by daily for their own Countries, the War being at a Stand in Bavaria thro' the Rigour of the Scason, which is greater than was ever known. Marshal Seckendorff received a severe Check on his Assessment of the Prince Check on h Check on his Attempt to follow Prince Charles from Braunau. His Highness intended to have kept the Field the whole Winter; but the Dispositions made for cantoning the Troops by Marshal Koniglegg answering the same Ends of distrelling the Enemy and securing our Dominions, his Royal Highness has agreed to that Plan, and in confequence thereof is daily expected here.

Extract of a Private Letter.

Paris, Jan. 2. It is generally believed here, that the Duke de Noailles, who is now considered as a Ca-binet Counfellor, will foon raife himself to the Head of the Ministry, for which he has very great Talents. He is at prefent much confidered, on account of his wife & in Flanders ; where, it is faid, he defeated the dangerous Deligns of our enterprizing Neighbours, by his timely and well contriv'd Precautions in fortifying various Posts in such a manner as shew'd he had pene-trated their Scheme. Nobody imagines his Stay at Court will be long at present; but it is conceived, that after giving the necessary Directions for covering Lor-rain and Alface, he will make another Tour to Verfailles before the Season for Action approaches. It is by his Advice all the new Regulations have been made for augmenting and recruiting the Army, which will be entirely repaired in all its Loffes by the Opening of the Spring, and then we are told some Project of great Importance will be underraken.

. The Report of Marshal Belleisle's quitting Prague begins to gain Credit. It is faid by fome to have Scheme concerted here, and that the Retreat of Marshal Maillebois into Bavaria was contriv'd in order to favour it; nay, that Marshal Broglio's declining to fight the Austrians proceeded from the fame Reason, and that mighty Configuences are to follow. Others affert, that he was forced thereto by the Lofs of Leutmaritz. Teufchen, and other Pofts, with the Magazines laid up in them. That in his March to Egra he must substitute the most substitute of the substit entirely on what he carries from Prague, and that if he joins the Forces in Bavaria, the Country cannot sublift them even for a few Weeks, and this is no Seafon for transporting Provisions. They therefore lay it down as certain, that if he has actually quitted Prague, he will endeavour to return into France by the Upper Palati-nate, Franconia, &c. while the Weather protects him and his Troops from being followed by the Austrians, and his Troops from being tollowed by the Austrians, or met by their Auxiliaries.

Tho' the Nature of our Government prevents the Diffatisfaction of its Subjects from appearing as manifestly here as elsewhere, yet we are femble enough for all that of the Diffosition of the People. The Continuation of the War in Germany is a Thing universally disliked, as it was from the Beginning; and the strange Stories told by the Officers who are returned from Bohemia and Bavaria, of the Hardthips suffained there, ferve to heighten this Spirit. Whoever engaged the Queen of Hungary to refuse the Terms offered her, whatever Hurt they did her, they have done us ten times as much. The Expence of the War in Germany is, in short, insupportable; and the Court knows this so well, that a Resolution has been taken to wighdraw our Troops from thence next Summer, at any rate. Some Terms, however, must in that Space be made for the Emperor; fince it is but too vilible, that he must otherwise be left to the Queen of Hungary's Mercy, who would immediately drive him out of his Hereditary Countries, which fome fay the intends to keep as an Equivalent for Silefia."
